Dublin-Caſtle, Auguſt 2, 1800.

THIS Day His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant went in State to the Houſe of Peers, and being ſeated on the Throne with the uſual Solemnity, Bryan Connor, Yeoman Uſher of the Black Rod, was ſent with a Meſſage from His Excellency to the Houſe of Commons, ſignifying his Pleaſure that they ſhould immediately attend His Excellency in the Houſe of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, His Excellency delivered the following Speech from the Throne:

My Lords and Gentlemen,

THE whole Buſineſs of this important Seſſion being at length happily concluded, it is with the moſt ſincere Satisfaction that I communicate to you, by His Majeſty's expreſs Command, His warmeſt Acknowledgments for that ardent Zeal and unſhaken Perſeverance which you have ſo conſpicuouſly manifeſted, in maturing and completing the great Meaſure of a Legiſlative Union between this Kingdom and Great Britain.

The Proofs you have given on this Occaſion of your uniform Attachment to the real Welfare of your Country, inſeparably connected with the Security and Proſperity of the Empire at large, not only entitle you to the full Approbation of your Sovereign, and to the Applauſe of your Fellow-Subjects, but muſt afford you the ſureſt Claim to the Gratitude of Poſterity.

You will regret, with His Majeſty, the Reverſe which His Majeſty's Allies have experienced on the Continent; but His Majeſty is perſuaded that the Firmneſs and public Spirit of His Subjects will enable him to perſevere in that Line of Conduct which will beſt provide for the Honor and the eſſential Intereſts of His Dominions, whoſe Means and Reſources have now, by your Wiſdom, been more cloſely and intimately combined.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I am to thank you, in His Majeſty's Name, for the liberal Supplies which you have cheerfully granted for the various and important Branches of the public Service in the preſent Year.

His Majeſty has alſo witneſſed, with Pleaſure, that wiſe Liberality which will enable him to make a juſt and equitable Retribution to thoſe Bodies and Individuals, whoſe Privileges and Intereſts are affected by the Union; and He has alſo ſeen with Satisfaction that Attention to the internal Proſperity of this Country, which has been ſo conſpicuouſly teſtified by the Encouragement you have given to the Improvement and Extenſion of its inland Navigation.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I have the Happineſs to acquaint you, that the Country in general has, in a great Meaſure, returned to its former State of Tranquillity. If in ſome Diſtricts a Spirit of Plunder and Diſaffection ſtill exiſts, thoſe Diſorders, I believe, will prove to be merely local, and will, I doubt not, be ſoon effectually terminated.

The Preſſure of Scarcity on the poorer Claſſes, though much relieved by private Generoſity, and by the ſalutary Proviſions of the Legiſlature, has been long and unuſually ſevere; but I truſt that, under the Favor of Providence, we may draw a pleaſing

Proſpect of future Plenty, from the preſent Appearance of the Harveſt.

I am perſuaded that the great Meaſure which is now accompliſhed, could never have been effected but by a decided Conviction on your Part that it would tend to reſtore and to preſerve the Tranquillity of this Country, to increaſe its Commerce and Manufactures, to perpetuate its Connection with Great Britain, and to augment the Reſources of the Empire.

You will not fail to impreſs theſe Sentiments on the Minds of your Fellow-Subjects; you will encourage and improve that juſt Confidence which they have manifeſted in the Reſult of your Deliberations on this arduous Queſtion; above all, you will be ſtudious to inculcate the full Conviction, that, united with the People of Great Britain into one Kingdom, governed by the ſame Sovereign, protected by the ſame Laws, and repreſented in the ſame Legiſlature, nothing will be wanting on their Part but a Spirit of Induſtry and Order, to inſure to them the full Advantages under which the People of Great Britain have enjoyed a greater Degree of Proſperity, Security, and Freedom, than has ever yet been experienced by any other Nation.

I cannot conclude without offering to you, and to the Nation at large, my perſonal Congratulations on the Accompliſhment of this great Work, which has received the Sanction and Concurrence of our Sovereign on the Anniverſary of that auſpicious Day which placed His illuſtrious Family on the Throne of theſe Realms. The Empire is now, through your Exertions, ſo completely united, and by Union ſo ſtrengthened, that it can bid Defiance to all the Efforts its Enemies may make, either to weaken it by Diviſion, or to overturn it by Force. Under the Protection of the Divine Providence, the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland will, I truſt, remain in all future Ages the faireſt Monument of His Majeſty's Reign, already diſtinguiſhed by ſo many and ſuch various Bleſſings conferred upon every Claſs and Deſcription of His Subjects.

After which the Lord Chancellor, by His Excellency's Command, ſaid:

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IT is His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Pleaſure that this Parliament be prorogued to Monday the 22d Day of September next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Monday the 22d Day of September next.
